Claims 14-21 have been withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Applicant's election with traverse of the seating unit article, claims 1-13 and 22-24 in the reply filed on July 14, 2006 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the search for both inventions would not be burdensome to the examiner. This is not found persuasive because the method of forming the chair as set forth in the claims, and the tools required therefor, would require further searching by the examiner that is not required in the article claims.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the cushion assembly and attaching means must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claims 9 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 9 lacks definite antecedent basis for "said cushion assembly", as does claim 12 for "said descriptive information".

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-8,10 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lankton.

Figures 1-4 show structure as claimed, including a chair having an aesthetic contoured upper edge portion. The back includes a central portion and lateral filler portions, and is formed to recline rearwardly.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 9,11,12 and 22-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lankton.

The use of cushions on chairs to increase comfort is conventional and well known in the art, as is the use of straps or sleeves for connecting the cushions to the chair, and to have provided such for the chair of Lankton, would have been an obvious modification to one with ordinary skill in the art.

Whether descriptive information is located on the chair is simply a matter of design, as is the shape of the contoured upper edge. Such limitations are given little patentable weight in article claims, and would be more suited to a design application.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Seidel, Gottlob, Hickey, Greeson, Lee and Young show various features of the invention.
